

Optimal kill-zone for rims

the green zone is the optimal zone for your defensemen to pick up the puck after a rim- notice it's below the goal-line and between the dots. The more accurate you can be with placement the better, but this is a good starting point. Retrievals in the corner will often result with your defensemen being checked, turnovers and scoring chances against would be a direct result. Make your defensemen's lives as easy as possible- possession is everything
